Weekly Instructional Guide for Hybrid Instructional Model 2020-2021

The district's primary structure of the hybrid instructional model requires that students be divided into three student cohorts. Students in Cohort A attend school face-to-face on Mondays and Tuesdays and engage in distance education on Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. Students in Cohort B attend school face-to-face on Thursdays and Fridays and engage in distance education on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays. Therefore, students in Cohorts A and B will receive learning opportunities that incorporate both face-to-face instruction at the school in the classroom and distance education at home through synchronous (live lessons) and asynchronous instruction (independent learning/small group instruction). Students in Cohort C engage in full-time distance education all days and receive learning opportunities that include distance education at home through synchronous and asynchronous instruction.
